Wellness Model for Adults

The wellness approach goes beyond looking at single-issue, healthy lifestyle services with a focus on illness, and instead aims to take a whole-person and community approach to improving health. Based on self-care and intervening as early as possible but as late as necessary, it is clear that individuals who manage their own lifestyles are healthier, more productive, have fewer absences from work, and make fewer demands for medical and social services.

Kirklees currently commissions separate services for smoking, physical activity, obesity, self-care etc. such as PALS, Health Trainers and a variety of third sector/NHS providers. The skills needed to promote behaviour change are broadly similar and some areas (Durham, Leeds, Derby, Halton) are redesigning integrated wellness services that are able to react more flexibly to the problems presented by people and also better react to emergent concerns such as type II diabetes and cancer prevention.

The Wellness Model will support the aims of New Council to empower people to live their lives to the fullest possible potential by enabling people to increase control over their health through making changes to their lives. It will support the NHS 5 Year Forward View and Sustainability and Transformation Plans by diverting people from primary and secondary healthcare services towards prevention pathways, helping to contain rising healthcare costs. Pathways will be streamlined and consideration will be given to self-referral, drop-in and outreach approaches.

The Panel will consider a report on the 7th March 2017 focusing on the following areas:-

- Review of emerging evidence in relation to Wellness models and evidence from the Joint Strategic Assessment about levels of need and community assets that might influence the design of the model.
- Review of design principles for Wellness Model.
